Press Release

Following the successful completion of EPG Energy's purchase of the assets of Energy Data Company Ltd (EDC) in July 2014, all activity within EDC has now ceased and it has become a dormant company.

Consequently, the formal steps required to retire EDC from its various obligations within the electricity market and ultimately to dissolve that company are now being finalised.

These steps include the process of withdrawal from the Balancing & Settlement Code (BSC) and applying to the regulator (OFGEM) for revocation of the EDC electricity supply licence.

This process is expected to be completed by the end of October 2016, at which point an application to the Registrar of Companies to dissolve that company will be submitted.

These steps will bring to an early conclusion the various post acquisition activities that were required from EPG Energy under the terms of the asset purchase.

The success experienced by EPG Energy in the two years since July 2014 has exceeded the planned expectations, and the actions above mark the transition into the second phase of the company's development.

As always EPG Energy remains committed to its business principles of transparency and independence, and believes that the continuing process of change within the electricity industry will create even further opportunities.
